MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

Casting

A huge thank you to everyone who auditioned! We had a wonderful turnout, and the talent in the auditions made casting difficult (but exciting!). To everyone who auditioned, regardless of whether you were cast, I will be holding a day dedicated to audition feedback and opportunities for growth and improvement. There will be a Google Sheet where you can sign up for individual 10-minute feedback sessions. More information will be posted on Monday, including the date, available times, meeting expectations, and four questions to prepare in advance.

For those who have been cast: In order to officially accept your role, you MUST join our Google Classroom using the link below.

> Joining the Google Classroom is how you confirm your acceptance of your role and receive important information moving forward. Please follow the link and join by Tuesday, November 3rd.

Congratulations, everyone! I'm looking forward to getting started!
